

Growing Forward 2

A federal-provincial-territorial initiative

India Cleantech and Agriculture Technology Opportunities Seminar Wednesday, March 26, 2014 Vancouver

With a population of 1.2 billion, India is one of the world's fastest growing economic regions. Going forward, it is essential for India to build a productive, competitive and diversified agricultural sector to meet the challenges of its industrialization and its growing population. One of the key factors in achieving this is improving the productivity growth rate, infrastructure and technologies.

The current focus of the Indian government on renewable energy and sustainable agriculture makes India an important consideration for BC renewable energy, cleantech and agriculture technology companies.

The Government of British Columbia invites you to the India Cleantech and Agriculture Technology Opportunities Seminar to learn more about these markets in India and how you can access these opportunities.
